Forecast for Sunday 23 Oct 2022

Weather: Heavy rain at first, with a small chance of lightning, will clear away north during the morning. A mainly dry late morning and afternoon follows, with sunny spells and just isolated passing showers. The showers becoming more frequent again into the evening, perhaps heavy and thundery.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 600m: 30% to start the day becoming 90% through the morning. Falling to 60% in the evening.

Low cloud and visibility: Widespread cloud obscuring routes above 500m during the morning, with some patches down to 300m during heavy rain. Cloud lifting and breaking as rain clears, although isolated patches returning to 600m during any heavy showers. Poor visibility in the rain then becoming good during the morning as cloud lifts and breaks.

Meteorologist's View

Very poor at first, with heavy rain, but these conditions soon easing. A generally fine afternoon then expected on the hills, so a good day for a later start. Though still watch out for the odd afternoon shower, especially if still on the hills by dusk.
